Website Hosting Service for LGWAN-Compliant Local Government Terms and Conditions

Chapter 1 General Provisions

Article 1 (Application of Terms and Conditions)

1. These Website Hosting Service for LGWAN-Compliant Local Government Terms and Conditions (these "Terms and Conditions") are the Terms and Conditions by Service applicable to the website hosting service for LGWAN-compliant local government which SAKURA internet Inc. (the "Company") provides as the Basic Service (the "Basic Service") and its Optional Service (collectively, the "Services"), and Chapter 1 constitutes the Basic Service Terms and Conditions and Chapter 2 constitutes the Optional Service Terms and Conditions.
2. A user of the Services (the "User") shall comply with the Basic Service Terms and Conditions and these Terms and Conditions that the Company sets forth. The Basic Service Terms and Conditions together with these Terms and Conditions shall apply to the Services.

Article 2 (Service Contents)

1. The Services are the services in which the User may conduct the contents set forth in the following items through the local government wide area network (LGWAN) and an external environment in which certain conditions are set.
   (1) Website management by CMS (Contents Management System);
   (2) Provision of application and content service for local governments; and
   (3) Publishing website on the Internet.
2. The Services are the system consisting of the infrastructure area, management area and publishing area, and in order to use the publishing area, the User needs to satisfy the conditions that the Company sets forth in these Terms and Conditions, or the Service Site or the like. If the User fails to satisfy the conditions to use the publishing area, the User may not use the publishing area and may not publish any website only through the Services on the Internet; provided, however, that if the User separately uses a server service (not limited to the Company's Services) to publish a website on the Internet, and the User works and sets for publishing by itself, the User may publish the website on the Internet without using the publishing area of the Services.

Article 3 (Use of LGWAN)

1. The Services are LGWAN-ASP service as prescribed in the "Basic Rules for Local Government Wide Area Network" which the Japan Agency for Local Authority Information Systems sets forth, and the Company is responsible for provision, and operation and management of the Services.

2. The User shall comply with the "Basic Rules for Local Government Wide Area Network" and the "Local Government Wide Area Network ASP Guidelines" which the Japan Agency for Local Authority Information Systems sets forth and which are the latest at the time of use of the Services.
3. When using the Services to provide application and content service for local governments in Paragraph 1, Item (2) of the preceding Article, the User shall separately make a prescribed application to the Japan Agency for Local Authority Information Systems and undergo the examination. The User shall conduct the application procedures at its own expense and on its own responsibility.
4. The Company may change or discontinue the contents of the Services due to circumstances such as dissolution of the Japan Agency for Local Authority Information Systems, or changes or discontinuation of the content of LGWAN by the Japan Agency for Local Authority Information Systems. The Company shall make effort to notify the User of these without delay, but the Company shall not assume any liability for the changes or discontinuation and delay of the notice.

Article 4 (Publishing Area)

1. The Company will provide one (1) publishing area per management area.
2. In order to use the publishing area, the User shall assign the authority of the domain to be used in the publishing area to the Company's DNS. If the User fails to assign the authority, the User may not use the publishing area.
3. The User shall comply with the upper use limit of the publishing area that the Company separately sets forth.
4. If the User uses the publishing area in excess of the upper use limit and the Company determines that it disrupts other Users' use of services or the Company's service operation (including, but not limited to, maintenance and the like of the Company's server equipment), then the Company may take the measures listed in the following items to the User. The Company shall assume no responsibility to the User in connection with the measures:
   (1) requesting deletion of the User Data;
   (2) limiting use of function if the User fails to correct the excess use even after the designated period after the measures in the preceding item; and
   (3) deleting or moving the User Data if the User still fails to correct the excess use even after the designated period after either of the measures in the preceding two items.
5. If the Company takes the measures listed in Item (2) or (3) of the preceding paragraph, the Company will notify the User to that effect and the reason in advance; provided, however, that this shall not apply if the Company determines that the matter is urgent.

6. Even if the Company takes the measures listed in Paragraph 4, the User shall pay the Usage Fees in full for the Company's Services.

Article 5 (Charge-Free SSL)

1. The publishing area set forth in the preceding article is accompanied by charge-free SSL. If the User wants to use the User's own SSL server certificate, the User shall separately apply for the use to the Company.
2. The Company shall, as providing the charge-free SSL, on behalf of the User, take procedures necessary for issuance (including optional services applicable to an SSL server certificate if the Certificate Authorities (as defined below) issuing the SSL server certificate provide the optional services) or extension of SSL server certificates to organizations (the "Certificate Authorities") providing services to issue and revoke SSL server certificates and conduct the setting work on a server necessary for the User to use the SSL server certificate issued or extended through the said procedures in the Services. The Certificate Authorities to which application for the issuance or extension of valid period of SSL server certificates may be made, and the description of the SSL server certificates shall be set forth on the Service Site.

Article 6 (Upper-Level Terms of Use of Charge-Free SSL)

1. Use of the charge-free SSL shall be subject to the terms and conditions, codes, rules and the like (the "Upper-Level of Terms of Use") applicable to SSL server certificates that the Certificate Authorities set forth in addition to the Basic Terms and Conditions and these Terms and Conditions, which govern the contents of the Use Contract. If any provision of the Basic Terms and Conditions and these Terms and Conditions conflicts with or contradicts any provision of the Upper-Level Terms of Use, the provision of the Upper-Level Terms of Use shall prevail and apply.
2. The User agrees to comply with the Upper-Level Terms of Use in terms of its relationship with the Certificate Authorities or third parties as to SSL server certificates. The same shall apply to the case where any provision of the Upper-Level Terms of Use is formulated or amended without the User's consent.

Article 7 (Refusal or the like of Issuance of Charge-Free SSL)

1. The Certificate Authorities may refuse to accept and process an application for new issuance or extension of valid period of an SSL server certificate that the Company made on behalf of the User. In the case where issuance or extension of valid period of an SSL server certificate is not made, the User may not use the publishing area.

2. The Company and the Certificate Authorities shall not assume any liability for damage that the User has incurred in connection with no issuance or no extension of valid period of the certificate.

Article 8 (Provision of Information and the like concerning Charge-Free SSL)

1. The User shall provide the Company with information and documents ("Information and the like") for the Company to provide the charge-free SSL and keep all the Information and the like that the User has provided to the Company accurate and up-to-date.
2. The Company may request the User to provide any Information and the like that the Company determines necessary to provide the charge-free SSL other than those that the User has already provided to the Company, and the User shall respond to this.

Article 9 (Revocation of Charge-Free SSL)

1. If it falls under any of the following items, the Company and the Certificate Authorities may immediately revoke the User's SSL server certificate without giving prior notice to the User:
   (1) if the User breaches any of the Upper-Level Terms of Use, the Basic Terms and Conditions and these Terms and Conditions;
   (2) if the revocation is demanded or permitted through due procedures pursuant to the Upper-Level Terms of Use;
   (3) if the revocation is requested pursuant to laws and regulations;
   (4) if the Certificate Authorities recognize that the SSL server certificate's private key may become vulnerable; and
   (5) if there are any other reasonable grounds that the Company or the Certificate Authorities recognize the revocation as necessary.
2. The User may not raise an objection to the revocation of the SSL server certificate pursuant to the preceding paragraph.
3. The Company and the Certificate Authorities shall not assume any liability for damage that the User has incurred in connection with the revocation of the SSL server certificate for any reason including the cases of Paragraph 1 of this Article, Article 7 and Paragraph 3 of Article 11.

Article 10 (Valid Period and Extension of Charge-Free SSL)

1. The valid period of an SSL server certificate shall be from the day on which the Certificate Authorities issued the SSL server certificate through the Company to the day on which the Certificate Authorities set forth as the expiration date.
2. Unless the User expresses its intention to refuse to use the charge-free SSL, the Company shall take the procedure to extend the valid period of the SSL server certificate on behalf of the User and the same shall apply thereafter.

Article 11 (Warranty and Disclaimers for Charge-Free SSL)

1. The Company, in providing the charge-free SSL, warrants only that the Company will on behalf of the User take the procedures to apply for issuance of or extension of valid period of the SSL server certificate to the Certificate Authorities based on the Information and the like that the User provides. The Company makes no warranty that the SSL server certificate will be issued, and its valid period will be extended as the Company applies for on behalf of the User, and the Company assumes no liability for damage that the User has incurred in connection with the Company's application on behalf of the User.
2. The SSL server certificate shall be provided to the User pursuant to the Upper-Level of Terms of Use that the Certificate Authority providing the said certificate sets forth, and the Company makes no warranty as to the SSL server certificate including warranties of marketability, fitness for the User's purpose of use and non-infringement of third parties' rights and assumes no liability for damage that the User has incurred in connection with the User's use of the SSL server certificate.
3. As for the SSL server certificate issued to the User, the effective provision of the SSL server certificate may be suspended, terminated or become subject to specification change or the like due to convenience of the Certificate Authorities issuing the said certificate. The Company shall make efforts to notify the User to that effect without delay but assumes no liability for the suspension, termination, specification change and delay of the notice.

Article 12 (Prohibited Matters)

1. In addition to the prohibited matters set forth in the Basic Terms and Conditions, the User shall not conduct an act which falls under, or may fall under, any of the following items.
   (1) an act of using the Services in excess of the usage limit of the database or other functions of the Services that the Company sets separately; or
   (2) an act of storing data in the infrastructure area of the Services that is not related to the website managed or provided through LGWAN, or applications and content service for local governments;
2. If the Company determines that the User breaches the preceding paragraph or any other provisions of the Company's Terms and Conditions, then the Company may take the measures falling under the following items against the User. The Company shall not assume any liability to the User concerning the measures.
   (1) Request for correction of transfer and the like of the User Data;

(2) After taking the measure in the preceding item, if the situation is not remedied even after the designated period has elapsed, restriction on use of the function; and

(3) After taking either of the measures in preceding two items, if the situation is not remedied even after the designated period has elapsed, transfer of the User Data by the Company.

3. If the Company takes either of the measures in Item (2) or Item (3) of the preceding paragraph, the Company will notify the User to that effect and reason in advance; provided, however, that this shall not apply if the Company determines that it is a matter of emergency.
4. Even if the Company takes the measures in Paragraph 2, the User shall pay the Usage Fees for the Services in full.

Article 13 (Termination)

1. The User may terminate the Use Contract pertaining to the Services on a per-unit basis for the management area in use.
2. When the Use Contract pertaining to all management areas associated with the infrastructure area in use is terminated, the Use Contract pertaining to the infrastructure area shall also be terminated at the same time.
3. When the User Contract pertaining to a management area is terminated, the provision of the publishing area associated with the management area shall also terminate at the same time.

Article 14 (Trial Version)

1. The User may use a trial version of the Basic Service prior to applying for the Use Contract. If the User desires to use the trial version, the User shall apply for the use of the trial version in a manner that the Company prescribes. Notwithstanding the provisions on the Usage Fees in the Basic Terms and Conditions, the trial version shall be used free of charge.
2. When using the trial version, the use of part of functions of the Basic Service and the Optional Service shall be restricted. The details shall be set forth on the Service Site.
3. The usage period of the trial version shall be one (1) month from the use start date of the trial version. The usage period of the trial version may not be renewed or extended, and the Use Contract for the trial version shall automatically terminate at the end of the usage period without requiring termination or any other procedures by the User or the Company.
4. If the User of the trial version desires to use the Services, the User shall separately conclude the Use Contract for the Services with the Company. In this case, the User may not transfer the user data in the trial version to the Services.
5. The Basic Terms and Conditions and these Terms and Conditions shall also apply to the use of the trial version.
